Who can review and approve time?

Both the participant and the primary contact can review and approve time. In addition, any contact associated with the participant and identified as a "web approver" is able to review and approve time. If you would like to add an additional approver, please contact your SD Coordinator.